ALEXANDRIA PTAC SUMMER CAMP DIRECTORY 2023

Choosing a Camp

As you consider which camps are the best fit for your child, keep in mind that camps accredited by the American Camp Association (ACA) comply with nationally recognized health, safety, and program quality standards, including these requirements: emergency transportation; first aid facilities and training; aquatic programs supervised by staff who are certified lifeguards; health histories, including immunizations, for all campers and staff; emergency exits from second-floor sleeping quarters.

Other questions to consider include:

- What type of camp are you looking for? Same-sex or coed? Overnight or day camp?
- Should you consider a specialty camp that offers a focused curriculum, such as basketball, or a special-needs camp designed for specific physical or medical disability?
- How long is each session? Would your child prefer attending camp for a week or two – or for an entire summer?
- Is the staff trained in safety, supervision, counseling, problem solving, and other issues important to working with young children?
- Is the price all-inclusive or do extra charges apply for transportation, food service, group pictures, t-shirts, special skills instruction such as horseback riding, and other items?
- Are discounts or scholarships available?
- For day camps, if before and after care is offered to accommodate working parents, who will be supervising children and what activities take place during that time?
- Is lunch and/or a snack served, or do campers bring their own? Will special dietary needs be accommodated?
- If swimming is offered, are lessons included, or is swimming only recreational?
- Does one counselor stay with a group all day? Or are campers free to roam from one activity to another? How is adequate supervision assured?
- Are parents allowed to drop by for visits at any time?
